

Automatic Data Processing

Automatic Data Processing (ADP) is one of the largest payroll outsourcing companies in the world. While the company produces a report on social responsibility, we find it long on words but short on measurable data. The report contains no goals and no results.

For example, while they mention that they have many programs to benefit the environment, the only quantified result cited is that they reduced paper use in one office by 25%. No time frame is given for how long it took to reach this mark or how they are doing company wide. It also notes that one of its offices (in Augusta, GA) has received Gold LEED certification, making it one of the most environmentally sensitive buildings in the U.S. Only 1,144 buildings in the U.S. have received this award.

The company has appeared on a few other lists for good employers. In 2016, it was included for the sixth time on Working Mother’s 100 Best Companies list. (They did not make the 2017 list, however.) It did, however, make Working Mother’s list for the best companies for multicultural women. ADP has also received a perfect score from the Human Rights Campaign on non-discrimination issues related to LGBT employees since 2009.

ADP gives employees paid time off to share their skills and expertise with nonprofits. The ADP Foundation matches employee charitable donations, dollar per dollar, up to $3,000 each year.

Source: OWL SHARES

Disclosure: This material may not be reproduced or transmitted to any third party or used for any other purpose without the prior written consent of Reynders, McVeigh Capital Management, LLC or its division Fresh Pond Capital (collectively "RMCM"). This material is proprietary and intended for informational purposes for RMCM clients only. The OWL SHARES ESG Ratings and Score consolidate information on 20,000 companies worldwide from over 500 sources, among them ESG research firms, news and media outlets, non-government organizations, government databases, unions and activist groups, and more. RMCM adjusts this research with its own proprietary weightings matrix. The views expressed herein are subject to change and represent the current, good-faith views of RMCM at the time of publication. RMCM disclaims any duty to update any of the information and data contained herein. This material is not a recommendation to buy or sell a particular security. Past performance is not indicative of future results. Factor exposures other than ESG score, such as market capitalization, valuation ratios, and momentum have an effect on a company and its performance.